LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT!

It's a "Hot" season at Red Carpet Community Theatre, in more ways than just one! Kudos to director, Tiphani Haraughty and music director, Meagan Mathews, for an outstanding job of producing the first big hit of the season, "High School Musical".

"High School Musical" was RCCT's first joint venture with the Elk City High School's Pioneer Center, and it would not have happened without the help and cooperation of Supt. Buddy Woods and Pioneer Center's facility director, Danny Ogles. RCCT also brought in professionals, Technical director, Leslie Currell, OKC, and Lighting Designer, Matt Taylor, NYC.

What a fantastic cast which included many first-timers, who all made this show a big success!!!!

Now on the Summer season. First up is "The Importance of Being Earnest", written by Oscar Wilde. RCCT was lucky to land this show, since it is currently in revival on Broadway in New York. It just received several Tony Nominations and won Best Costume Design. This is an old English comedy and is being directed by Julie Barnett of Sentinel. Julie has brought her talents to the Red Carpet stage several times, usually as a comedic actor, but this will be her second time she has directed a production for us. Julie is a SWOSU speech and drama graduate and is teaching in the Weatherford Public Schools.

Auditions have been held for major summer musical, "Godspell". The hit Broadway show of the 1970's, loosely based on the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John will come together the second week of August. Guest professional director, Susan Adams-Johnson, is from OKC.

So plan to spend some evenings in a COOL theatre seeing some HOT shows!!!
